One agent, one family, three luxury sales

Boutique.
Bespoke.
Hands-on.
All characteristics that accurately describe Hunt Property Services. Hayley Hunt founded the business 10 years ago. Growing it from a one-woman business working from a home office to the business it is today. Yet despite its success, Hunt Property Services is governed by the same founding principles that drove its early growth.

When the ultimate Property Hunt succeeds

Hayley Hunt, director of Hunt Property services has been successfully partnering alongside London Square for over a year, selling luxury properties within the stunning gated development of Chigwell Village. Situated in the heart of Chigwell, this much sought after haven of tranquillity is made up of a range of 43 four and five bedroom family homes, set in and around beautifully landscaped gardens. All of them are completely designed for contemporary living, with high-end specifications such as fully integrated Siematic kitchens, with Siemens appliances and granite worktops, with gas underfloor heating and private gardens.

“Purchasing three Westcroft Style detached Houses in Chigwell Village would not have been possible without the guidance and determination of Hunt property services especially Hayley Hunt who went above and beyond to assist us.

We were looking for something very Niche, which was three family-style properties next door to each other, a challenge that many agents would have been daunted by. Unlike our agent who was able to source exactly what we wanted.

Having lived in Repton Park for 16 years we didn't want to leave the security and peace we were used too, we were not prepared to compromise and so we didn't, we are completely delighted to move into our dream homes and embrace our new neighbours and community.”
